

Exercise: Bayes factors and ROC curves

Let $B = p(D|H_1)/p(D|H_0)$ be the Bayes factor in favor of model 1. Suppose we plot two ROC curves, one computed by thresholding B , and the other computed by thresholding $p(H_1|D)$. Will they be the same or different? Explain why.